

Greg Rogers
VP, Receivables Product
JPMorgan Chase

Greg Rogers is a Receivables Product Sales Specialist for the JPMorgan Chase Commercial Banking organization supporting Treasury Management Officers and Bankers for the receivables suite of products.

Greg joined the organization in 1999 as a member of the Chase Online Banking team. In 2002, he moved into the Receivables Product organization and over the course of 14 years supported receivables products in various capacities, most recently as the product manager of JPMorgan's award winning Receivables Edge online portal and its premiere remote deposit capture product – Virtual Remit.

He received his MBA in Global Management from the University of Phoenix and his bachelor's degree from Lamar University. Greg has been with JPMorgan Chase and its predecessor firms for his entire career. Greg lives in Dallas, Texas.