

Bio

Megan Schneider joined the staff of NACUBO in July 2016 as Assistant Director of Federal Affairs where she works on federal legislative and regulatory issues affecting the business and financial management of higher education institutions. Prior to joining NACUBO she worked in the Federal Relations office of the University of Arizona where she served as a liaison between the university and the federal government. Megan previously served as a law clerk on Capitol Hill to Senator John McCain and for the Senate Permanent Subcommittee on Investigation. Megan holds degrees from the University of Arizona and American University's Washington College of Law.

Contact Info

Megan Schneider
Assistant Director, Federal Affairs
NACUBO
202.861.2547
mschneider@nacubo.org

Session Description

The Trump Administration and Higher Education

Megan Schneider, Assistant Director, Federal Affairs, NACUBO
Bill Shute, Vice Chancellor for Federal Relations, The University of Texas System

With President Trump in the White House and the GOP in control of the U.S. Senate and the House of Representatives, many different forces will shape the higher education landscape ahead, presenting both challenges and opportunities for colleges and universities. NACUBO's Megan Schneider and UT's Bill Shute will offer observations and analysis of major legislative and regulatory changes likely to be brought about by both the incoming Trump Administration and shifting Congressional priorities. Learn what impact those changes could have on your campus.