

Shawn McCarthy – Biography

Shawn McCarthy is the COO of PaymentWorks, a supplier information management network. He has spent his career working in higher education and has been with PaymentWorks since 2016, when he identified the need within universities to more securely manage the supplier relationship system. Prior to PaymentWorks, Shawn worked at CBORD in the university space, working with over 800 schools around the country. His career has comprised of working in leadership at early stage technology companies.